

The Last Ferry - one-page film brief

Runtime: 48 seconds | Master: 16:9, 24 fps | Cut-downs: 9:16 for Reels and Shorts
Logline: A young courier races through a rain-soaked night market to deliver a red lacquered box to the last ferry of the night - and discovers the box is addressed to her.

Cast (saved elements)

- @mei - courier, mid-20s. Yellow hooded raincoat, red scarf, black cross-body bag with a chequered patch. Determined, quick, quietly funny.

- @captain_tan - ferry captain, late 60s. Navy pea coat, white captain's cap, grey beard.

Locations (saved elements)

- @night_market - narrow rain-slicked street, neon signs, hanging lanterns.
- @harbour_pier_docked / @harbour_pier_leaving - the same pier in two story states.

Prop

- @red_box - palm-sized red lacquered box, brass clasp, folded paper tag.

Beats

1. Rush - Mei fights through the market (S1-S2).
2. Mystery - the tag, still folded (S3).
3. Arrival - the captain is waiting (S4).
4. Turn - "It's not for me. Read the tag." (S5).
5. Release - the ferry leaves; the box was hers all along (S6).

Sound

Voiceover first (see vo-timing.json); music: sparse piano and soft pulse building to a warm resolve, 84-90 BPM;
SFX: rain, market chatter, running footsteps, ferry horn at S6.
